A Pearl District eyewear space that's as much a retail experience as an optometric one and the Nashville, Tenn., office that a building materials manufacturer moved into after leaving Portland last year were among 10 projects winning awards at the 13th annual IIDA/AIA/IDSA Design Competition, held Thursday at the Crystal Ballroom.

In the healthcare space category, Bainbridge Design Inc. won a Merit Award for its work on a Mary Bridge Children's Health Center in Washington, and Zimmer Gunsul Frasca Partnership won a Citation Award for its work on Legacy Health Systems' Salmon Creek Hospital in Washington.
